Received: 12/20/2011

Status: CANCELLED Effective Date: 04/01/2012

02.10 1002-0038

P.S.C. NO. 3 ELECTRICITY ORANGE AND ROCKLAND UTILITIES, INC. INITIAL EFFECTIVE DATE: April 1, 2012

LEAF: 203
REVISION: 0
SUPERSEDING REVISION:

GENERAL INFORMATION

14. FORM OF APPLICATION FOR SERVICE (Continued)

14.4 APPLICATION FOR NON-RESIDENTIAL SERVICE (Continued)

Please provide BTU input and hours of operation per customer. Type of Customer: Retail/Office Restaurant Dry Cleaner Major Tenant Other Number of Occupancies: Heating Loads (hrav/day): Cooking Loads (hrav/day): Water Heat (hrav/day): Special Provision For Dual Fuel Alternate type of fuel: Other BTU: Process Requirement BTU Multiple (Gang) Meter Installations If you are installing more than 2 electric and or gas meters at a single location, you are required to certify the following: The electric and/or gas installation shall be completed in accordance with applicable National Electric Code, National Fuel Gas Code, and Company Specifications for Electric and Gas Installations. All electric meter pans and/or gas meter bare shall be ballow with the correct unit number as supplied by the Applicant. The electric sub-panel serving the unit shall be labeled with the correct unit number as supplied by the Applicant. The electric sub-panel serving the unit shall be labeled with the same designation used on the electric meter pan. Vou relectrical and plumbing contractors shall "ring out" each meter pan and/or fuel line. to ensure that these main lines serve the specific units labeled on each meter pan and/or fuel line. Vou will assume liability for all installation work performed by your electrical and plumbing contractors. Vou will assume liability for all installation work performed by your electrical and plumbing contractors. Vou will assume liability for all installation work performed by your electrical and plumbing contractors. Vou will assume liability for all installation work performed by your electrical and plumbing contractors. Vou will assume liability for all installation work performed by your electrical and plumbing contractors. Vou will assume liability for all installation work performed by your electrical and plumbing contractors. Vou will assume liability for all installation work performed by your electrical and plumbing contra
Number of Occupancies: Heating Loads (htm/day): Cooking Loads (htm/day): Water Heat (htm/day): Special Provision For Dual Fuel Alternate type of fuek. Other STU: Process Requirement	Please provide BTU input and hours of operation per customer.
Cooking Loads (hrs/day): Water Heat (hrs/day): Special Provision For Dual Fuel Atternate type of fuel: Other BTU: Process Requirement	Type of Customer: ☐ Retail/Office ☐ Restaurant ☐ Dry Cleaner ☐ Major Tenant ☐ Other
Special Provision For Dual Fuel Alternate type of fuek: Other BTU: Process Requirement	Number of Occupancies: Heating Loads (hrs/day):
Multiple (Gang) Meter Installations If you are installing more than 2 electric and or gas meters at a single location, you are required to certify the following: The electric and/or gas installation shall be completed in accordance with applicable National Electric Code, National Fuel Gas Code, and Company Specifications for Electric and Gas Installations. All electric meter pans and/or gas meter bars shall be labeled with the correct unit number as supplied by the Applicant. The electricis sub-panel serving the unit shall be labeled with the same designation used on the electric meter pan. Your electrical and plumbing contractors shall "ring out" each meter pan and/or fuel line. You will assume liability for all installation work performed by your electrical and plumbing contractors. You understand and agree that non-compliance with these requirements and certifications shall result in delays in project completion and that you may incur additional charges from O&R for additional inspections and administration. Note: Copies of our Electric and Gas Specifications Manuals are available upon request at your local New Construction Field Office. Construction Near Electric Lines The High-Voltage Proximity Act imposes certain obligations on any individual or company who may be working near electric utility power lines. Before you commence work on a project, you are required to notify your local utility. Paragraph 5 of §202-h states: "Whenever any activity is to be performed requiring precautionary action under the Act, the employer, contractor or other person responsible for the activity shall be responsible for all costs to be submitted at least the normal work days before the activity is to be performed. The owner or person responsible for the activity shall be responsible for all costs of such precautionary actions. Under no circumstances shall activities requiring precautionary actions be undertaken before such precautionary actions be undertaken before such precautionary actions be undertaken before such	Cooking Loads (hrs/day): Water Heat (hrs/day):
Multiple (Gang) Meter Installations If you are installing more than 2 electric and or gas meters at a single location, you are required to certify the following: • The electric and/or gas installation shall be completed in accordance with applicable National Electric Code, National Fuel Gas Code, and Company Specifications for Electric and Gas Installations. • All electric meter pans and/or gas meter bars shall be labeled with the correct unit number as supplied by the Applicant. • The electric sub-panel serving the unit shall be labeled with the same designation used on the electric meter pan. • You relectrical and plumbing contractors shall "ring out" each meter pan and/or fuel line to ensure that these main lines serve the specific units labeled on each meter pan and/or fuel line. • You will assume liability for all installation work performed by your electrical and plumbing contractors. • You understand and agree that non-compliance with these requirements and certifications shall result in delays in project completion and that you may incur additional charges from O&R for additional inspections and administration. Note: Copies of our Electric Lines The High-Voltage Proximity Act imposes certain obligations on any individual or company who may be working near electric utility power lines. Before you commence work on a project, you are required to notify your local utility. Paragraph 5 of §222-b states: "Wheevere are yearbily to to be performed requiring precautionary actions under the Act, the employer, contractor or other person responsible for the activity shall promptly notify the owner or person in charge of the high-voltage line of the intended activity, such notification to be submitted at least five normal work days before the activity is to be performed. The owner or person responsible for the activity shall person responsible for the activity shall person and necessary precautionary actions. Under no circumstances shall activities requiring precautionary actions and the employee, contractor
Multiple (Gang) Meter Installations If you are installing more than 2 electric and or gas meters at a single location, you are required to certify the following: • The electric and/or gas installation shall be completed in accordance with applicable National Electric Code, National Fuel Gas Code, and Company Specifications for Electric and Gas Installations. • All electric meter pans and/or gas meter bars shall be labeled with the correct unit number as supplied by the Applicant. • The electric sub-panel serving the unit shall be labeled with the same designation used on the electric meter pan. • Your electrical and plumbing contractors shall "ring out" each meter pan and/or fuel line to ensure that these main lines serve the specific units labeled on each meter pan and/or fuel line. • You will assume liability for all installation work performed by your electrical and plumbing contractors. • You understand and agree that non-compliance with these requirements and certifications shall result in delays in project completion and that you may incur additional charges from 0&R for additional inspections and administration. Note: Copies of our Electric and Gas Specifications Manuals are available upon request at your local New Construction Field Office. Construction Near Electric Lines The High-Voltage Proximity Act imposes certain obligations on any individual or company who may be working near electric utility power lines. Before you commence work on a project, you are required to notify your local utility. Paragraph 5 of §2022-h states: "Whenever any activity is to be performed. The owner or person responsible for the high-voltage line of the intended activity, such notification to be submitted at least five normal work days before the activity is to be performed. The owner or person responsible for the high-voltage line shall percoman all necessary precautionary actions, and the employer, contractor or other person responsible for the high-voltage line shall percoman and line energized to the activity s	Alternate type of fuel:
if you are installing more than 2 electric and or gas meters at a single location, you are required to certify the following: • The electric and/or gas installation shall be completed in accordance with applicable National Electric Code, National Fuel Gas Code, and Company Specifications for Electric and Gas Installations. • All electric meter pans and/or gas meter bars shall be labeled with the correct unit number as supplied by the Applicant. • The electric sub-panel serving the unit shall be labeled with the same designation used on the electric meter pan. • Your electrical and plumbing contractors shall "ring out" each meter pan and/or fuel line to ensure that these main lines serve the specific units labeled on each meter pan and/or fuel line. • You will assume liability for all installation work performed by your electrical and plumbing contractors. • You understand and agree that non-compliance with these requirements and certifications shall result in delays in project completion and that you may incur additional charges from OSR for additional inspections and administration. Note: Copies of our Electric and Gas Specifications Manuals are available upon request at your local New Construction Field Office. Construction Near Electric Lines The High-Voltage Proximity Act imposes certain obligations on any individual or company who may be working near electric utility power lines. Before you commence work on a project, you are required to notify your local utility. Paragraph 5 of §202-h states: "Whenever any activity is to be performed requiring precautionary action under the Act, the employer, contractor or other person responsible for the high-voltage line of the intended activity, such notification to be submitted at leativity shall promptly notify the owner or person in charge of the high-voltage line of the intended activity, such notification to be submitted at leativity and promptly notify the owner or person responsible for the activity shall be responsible for the activity shall promptly n	Other BTU: Process RequirementBTU
Does your facility meet this definition? YES NO	## The electric and/or gas installation shall be completed in accordance with applicable National Electric Code, National Fuel Gas Code, and Company Specifications for Electric and Gas Installations. ## All electric meter pans and/or gas meter bars shall be labeled with the correct unit number as supplied by the Applicant. ## The electric sub-panel serving the unit shall be labeled with the same designation used on the electric meter pan. ## Your electrical and plumbing contractors shall "ring out" each meter pan and/or fuel line. ## You will assume liability for all installation work performed by your electrical and plumbing contractors. ## You will assume liability for all installation work performed by your electrical and plumbing contractors. ## You understand and agree that non-compliance with these requirements and certifications shall result in delays in project completion and that you may incur additional charges from O&R for additional and that you may incur additional charges from O&R for additional inspections and administration. ## Note: Copies of our Electric Lines ## The High-Voltage Proximity Act imposes certain obligations on any individual or company who may be working near electric utility power lines. Before you commence work on a project, you are required to notify your local utility. Paragraph 5 of $202-h states: "Whenever any activity is to be performed requiring precautionary action under the Act, the employer, contractor or other person responsible for the activity is to be performed. The owner or person responsible for the intended activity, such notification to be submitted at least five normal work days before the activity is to be performed. The owner or person responsible for the intended activity, such notification to be submitted at least five normal work days before the activity is to be performed. The owner or person responsible for the high-voltage lines shall be considered e

Issued By: William Longhi, President, Pearl River, New York

serfm_ny_norres.pdf