Corning Natural Gas Corporation
Initial Effective Date: 01/31/2008

Leaf: 65
Revision: 2
Superseding Revision: 1

4. As circumstances permit, the Company will initially seek voluntary curtailments to alleviate an emergency situation. Economic considerations shall not be the basis for a curtailment. Curtailments shall be limited in scope and duration as necessary to alleviate an emergency and shall be localized to the extent possible
5. Curtailments and notices of curtailment of sales services resulting from a gas supply deficiency will normally be made in the following order of priority to the extent permitted by operating feasibility.
 - (a) Firm requirements to customers whose facilities are capable of using an alternate fuel or energy source to supply the energy requirements of the premises otherwise supplied by gas.
 - (b) Industrial and commercial space heating boiler fuel requirements, air conditioning, electric generation and other non-process purposes.
 - (c) Industrial and commercial requirements for space heating (other than boiler fuel use).
 - (d) Process and feedback requirements.
 - (e) Plant protection requirements for customers curtailed in Categories a through d above.
 - (f) Industrial and commercial requirements in firm service classifications.
 - (g) Residential requirements in firm service classifications.

If the reason for the curtailment is in the Company's sole judgment due to a force majeure condition, the Company reserves its right to curtail service outside the order listed above in order to protect the efficient operation of its system.

Except for Category G, curtailment of all other Categories will be on the basis of size, with the largest customers being curtailed first.
