GENERAL INFORMATION

PART II - RULES AND REGULATIONS

1. DEFINITIONS AND ABBREVIATIONS (Cont'd)

Supply Line: A part of a distribution line that is installed between an existing electric Distribution System and an underground distribution line within a residential subdivision.

System Impact Study: An engineering study performed for the purpose of evaluating a proposed distributed generation design for conformance with the interconnection requirements and the standards for transmission and distribution system planning. This study also assesses the impact of the proposed design on the safety and reliability of the distribution and transmission system. It also will identify necessary system modifications to accommodate the proposed design, and/or limitations on the operation of the generation facility.

Transmission Line: A set of overhead and/or underground conductors and associated equipment (poles, switches, breakers, etc.) that are used for the purpose of transporting bulk quantities of power between stations. Power flow can be in either direction.

Transmission Provider: The entity which operates the New York State Transmission System for the delivery of capacity and energy. Under this Tariff, the Transmission Provider is the New York State Independent Operator (NYISO).

Transmission Service: Point-To-Point, Network Integration, or Retail Access Transmission Service as provided for under the NYISO's OATT.

Transmission System: The facilities operated by the NYISO that are used to provide Transmission Service.

Unit: A distributed generation facility located on the Customer's premises at the time the Company approves such facility for operation in parallel with the Company's system.

Voluntary Switch: A process or situation where a Retail Customer's Distribution Customer is transferred from one Distribution Customer to another or from one Distribution Customer to the Distribution Provider with the Retail Customer's direct authorization.
