Demand Side Management Eligibility

EVOP customers will be eligible to participate in Central Hudson's Demand Side Management programs.

Customer Solicitation

Central Hudson will not provide customer names to potential energy suppliers without the customer's permission. Customers requesting information about EVOP will be provided an approved list of suppliers and marketers who have indicated an interest in participation. The information provided to customers will include the name and address of the supplier/marketer, contact person and telephone number. The list provided is for the customer's convenience; no recommendation or restriction is implied. Informational material (one page limit) provided by the supplier or marketer describing the services offered will also be distributed to eligible program customers. It is the customer's responsibility to arrange for EVOP purchases with the supplier of the customer's choice. Customers may choose to deal with suppliers or marketers other than those included in the list supplied by Central Hudson; however, Central Hudson reserves the right to deny contracts or agreements with marketers or suppliers who have historically performed below acceptable standards.

Requirements For Energy Suppliers

Detailed requirements regarding schedule and delivery information required by Central Hudson from each supplier and the rules applicable to supplier transactions are contained in the Central Hudson EVOP Guidelines. Failure to comply with these operational requirements may cause the Company to limit or deny an energy supplier's participation.

The Company will remain responsible for providing adequate capacity and ensuring service reliability while retaining the obligation to serve all customers. In the event that a supplier is negligent in providing energy and continues to fail to meet the terms of the service agreement between the supplier and the customer, the Company reserves the right to intervene and require the customer to seek another supplier.
