RESIDENTIAL AND RELIGIOUS - HEATING FIRM SALES SERVICE

All uses and purposes where the gas is used for space heating, when supplied directly by the Company to any corporation or association organized and conducted in good faith for religious purposes where such gas service is utilized exclusively in connection with such religious purposes, except that, where gas is used for the entire space heating requirements of the premises occupied by such corporation or association, the inclusion of activities of a non-religious nature will be permitted provided that the cubical content of space devoted to such non-religious purposes does not exceed 25 percent of the cubical content of the building. Where gas is used for such space heating requirements, it is also available for central water heating, incineration and the operation of similar building equipment by the landlord for the common benefit of the religious and non-religious activities of the building and for redistribution for cooking for the benefit of the religious and non-religious activities of the building.

All uses and purposes where the gas is used for space heating, when supplied directly to community residences that are supportive living facilities or supervised living facilities, as defined in subsections twenty-eight, twenty-eight-a, and twenty-eight-b of the Mental Hygiene Law, operated by a not-for-profit corporation, not providing staff twenty-four hours per day (supportive living facility) or providing staff on a twenty-four hour per day basis but providing living accommodations for fourteen or fewer residents (supervised living facility).

All uses and purposes where gas is used for space heating, when supplied directly to any post or hall owned or leased by a not-for-profit corporation that is a veterans' organization where such service is utilized exclusively in connection with such veteran's organizations. Eligible Customers that apply for the rate by June 2, 1999 will be rebilled at the rates set forth under this Service Classification for service supplied on or after June 2, 1998.
