6. METERING AND BILLING (Cont'd.)

6.5 RENDERING OF BILLS (Cont'd.)

(2) Transportation Customer Billing Options (Cont'd.)

(C) Marketer Single Billing Service (Cont'd.)

12. Customer accounts that are 60 days in arrears for the Company Charges will be considered seriously delinquent and, at the request of the Company and upon ten calendar days written notice to the customer and Marketer, will revert to the two separate bill option.
13. Taxes. The Marketer is not responsible for paying or remitting, on behalf of the Company, any federal, state or local taxes or for providing to customers statements of gross receipts taxes related to the Company Charges. The Company will calculate and identify the taxes applicable to the Company Charges. The Marketer shall provide the Company a statement of the amount of sales and use taxes collected from customers in connection with remittance of the Company Charges appearing on the Marketer Single Bill in accordance with Section 6.5(2)(C)9.
14. Budget Billing: The Marketer will include on its bill the budget amount for customers who choose the budget billing option for the Company Charges as may be offered by the Company. The Company will transmit the budget charges (including previous balance and current balance) to the Marketer in accordance with Section 6.5(2)(C)(3).
15. Creditworthiness: In order to be eligible to provide the Marketer Single Billing Service to the Company's customers, the Marketer must satisfy the creditworthiness requirements of Service Classification Nos. 11, 12 or 13, as applicable, and post the security required therein with the Company.
16. Credit and Collections: Other than including the Company's bill messages relating to payment of the Company's charges on Marketer Single Bills, the Marketer will perform no collection activities with respect to the Company Charges. The Company will issue credit notices and perform credit and collection activities, including termination of service, in accordance with
