8. Billing Agency Arrangements (Cont'd)

- c. The company may terminate a Billing Agency arrangement and send its invoices for delivery charges directly to the Marketer's customers after providing five (5) calendar days' notice to the Marketer/Billing Agent if:
  - i. the Billing Agent has not paid the company on a timely basis for its delivery charges, unless such payment is made in full before the expiration of the five (5) calendar day notice period (note: untimely payments may be a basis for a termination if a pattern of such payments develops); or
  - ii. the Marketer's credit rating or security is no longer adequate and the Marketer fails to post the necessary additional security within the five (5) calendar day notice period; or
  - iii. the company draws on the Marketer's security deposit and the Marketer does not reinstate the required security within five (5) calendar days; or
  - iv. the Marketer has on several occasions failed, after notice from the company, to meet its other obligations as Billing Agent, as set forth in the company's tariff, operating procedures and/or agreement(s) with the company (if applicable).
