If you are applying for Remote Crediting

Residential Customers with Farm Operations and Non-residential Customers may apply to be a Remote Crediting Host if they have solar, wind, micro-hydroelectric, or fuel cell electric generating equipment or Stand-alone or Hybrid Electric Energy Storage. The account where the electric generating equipment is located is designated the “Host Account.” The account(s) to which net credits are to be applied is designated the “Satellite Account(s).” A Host Account under Remote Crediting will receive compensation under the Rider R Value Stack Tariff.

Please check off the box below if you are applying to be a Remote Crediting Host Account:

☐ Remote Crediting Host Account

Remote Crediting Hosts must submit an allocation list pursuant to Section F.2 of Rider R prior to commencing Remote Crediting service.
